

---

IAN'S INSTRUMENTS

Interesting instruments used on the FunMusic recordings... from the collection of Ian Blake

---

CITTERN

This cittern (pronounced sit-urn) has five pairs of strings (some citterns have four pairs). The modern cittern resembles the popular renaissance instrument, but it is not the same. This particular cittern was made by Gillian Alcock in Canberra, Australia.

You can hear the cittern being played on Clap Your Hands (Animals CD) and Grimstock (Transport CD) <http://www.funmusicforlittlekids.com>

---